Adjust Size

The packaging box contains a small screwdriver, which can freely open the screws on the back. Please follow the following guidelines to cut to size.

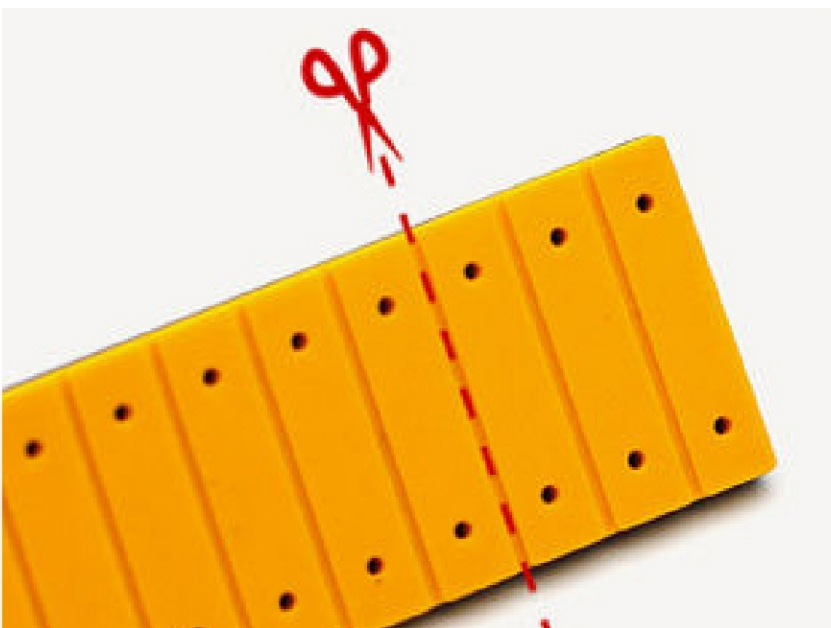

Step One

Measure the circumference of your wrist and use the small screwdriver included in the package to remove the two small screws on the back.

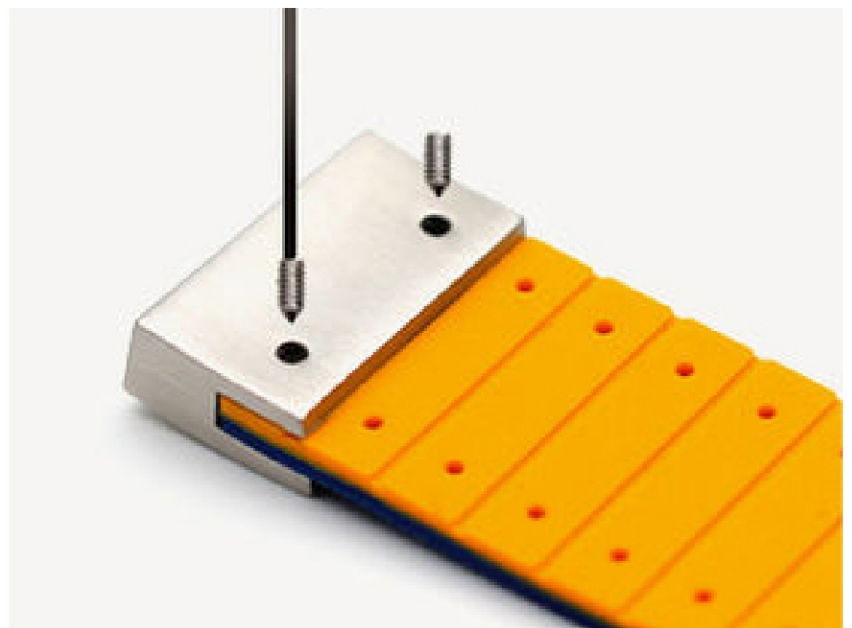

Step Two

Pull the silicone tape out of the buckle and keep the two small screws to avoid losing them.

Step Three

Prepare your own scissors to cut off the excess along the line. Please do not cut off too much so that it cannot be worn.

Step Four

Reinsert the silicone tape into the buckle, align the holes and tighten the screws, and you're done.

* Reminder:

Please do not cut too much when cutting for the first time. Cut gradually according to the actual length needed to avoid cutting too much and making it too short to wear.

Wrist Measurements

Method One:

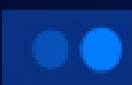

Measure with a Soft Ruler

Use a soft ruler to draw a circle around the thinnest part of your wrist without being too loose or too tight. The length of the circle is the circumference of your hand.

Method Two: DIY Measurement

Use a piece of paper or a small, non-stretchy string to make a circle around the thinnest part of your wrist without it being loose or tight. Mark the connection with a pen, and then use a ruler to measure the length of the marked paper or string.
